DR. U. L. TAYLOR DEAD.

The End Came Suddenly at His Residence on Thursday Night, and it Was a Great Shock to Columbia.

SAGE OF ADAIR COUNTY PHYSICIANS.

Last Thursday evening, September 2, 1915, at 8 o'clock, the subject of this writing fell dead at his home, in this city. His wife was the only person in the dwelling when the summons came, and our informant states that the doctor had started to his sleeping apartment, with a lighted lamp, when the attack came. He fell and when the first friend, Mr. Jo N. Conover, reached him, he had expired, the lamp remaining gripped in his right hand.

Dr. Taylor was a remarkable man. His vigorous constitution was often mentioned, as he was very active from a young man to old age. The 21st of last April he reached his eighty-second birthday, and his demise removes the last member of a large family of brothers and sisters, sons and daughters of Rev. George Taylor, who was a pioneer Methodist preacher of this county.

Dr. Taylor had been a practicing physician for more than a half century, and up to the time of his death he had been the Health Officer of Adair county for quite a number of years. His work in that capacity has bettered the health condition of Adair, the death rate being much lower now than when he took up the work. To the medical fraternity he was well-known over the State. He attended the State meetings of the Board of Health, and his opinions given before that body were logical, many of his suggestions being adopted for future guidance. He loved his profession, and was a constant reader of the latest medical periodicals. He was a man possessed of general information and an entertaining conversationalist. Events of the long past were vivid in his mind, and he could relate them so plainly that a little child could understand.

He was a native of Adair county and if the writer has been correctly informed, he was born and reared on a farm one mile from Gradyville, on the road leading to Greelsboro.

Besides being a skilled physician and an upright citizen, he was a devoted member of the Christian Church, and was ever ready with his presence and his purse to do all he could in advancing the cause of Christianity.

As time passed he realized that he had but a short time to remain with his companion, children and friends, and on each Sunday forenoon at the services in the Christian church, just before or just after his birthday, he sang, alone, "Beyond the Dark Sea," and while he was so pathetically rendering it many eyes in the congregation were bedimmed with tears.

He was a man who will be greatly missed, as he was known to every grown person and many of the children of Adair county, as he visited every school in Adair, white and colored, once a year, laying before the pupils laws of health, urging that they be strictly obeyed.

Our readers will remember that at the beginning of this year he commenced writing health articles for The News, which doubtless were widely read. He wrote them, gratis, for the benefit of humanity. The last one penned by him appears in this issue of the paper. It is marked "to be continued," but his pen has been stilled.

Friday the body was embalmed, to await the arrival of his daughters, Mrs. Fannie McGarvey and Miss Mattie Taylor. The former was out West, the latter in Frankfort.

The funeral services were held in the Christian Church last Saturday forenoon, beginning at 10:30. The building was crowded with relatives and friends, who had gathered to pay tribute to the honored dead.

The funeral services were conducted by Eld. Z. T. Williams, assisted by Eld. M. R. Gabbert and Rev. J. S. Chandler, all three paying high tribute to the departed.

Services over the remains were deposited beside the graves of loved ones in the city cemetery.

Coldest Summer for 44 Years.

An examination of the temperature records of the United States Weather Bureau Station in Cincinnati Monday disclosed the fact that this has been the coldest summer during the 44 years weather data has been kept in Cincinnati. The average temperature for the period from May 1 to date is 68.2 degrees, or 4.6 degrees below the normal and the lowest average temperature ever recorded for a corresponding period. The nearest approach to the record established this summer was the summer of 1891 when the temperature averaged 69.2 degrees.

The average temperature for August to date is also a record breaker. It reached the low mark of 69.8 degrees. The normal average temperature for August to date is 75.5 degrees. The lowest average temperature previous to this year was 71.7 degrees recorded in August 1875.

The month of May, June, July and August, this year taken collectively, show a very large deficiency in temperature, compared with the normal, although individually these months have shown lower temperature in previous years. This year differs from other years in that in no other year were there four consecutive cool months from May to August.

The Lindsey-Wilson opened this morning with flattering prospects. Already a number of students from a distance have arrived, and they will continue to come for several weeks. The two large brick dormitories are well furnished, and there is comfortable room for all who will come. The sooner you enter school the better for the student.

Prof. R. B. Moss, of the Lindsey-Wilson, conducted the Tompkinsville Institute, and the teachers resolved that it was the best one ever conducted in the county.

Messrs. J. R. Garnett, Democrat, J. O. Russell, Republican, have been appointed Election Commissioners for the ensuing year.

Born, to the wife of Harvey Conover, near Ozark, September the 2nd, a son.

Case Probably Settled.

There was an interesting case called in the Russell County Court Monday of last week. In talking to a Russell county citizen he related these circumstances: Some years ago a man named Thos. Yaden, who now lives in Russell county, married a woman in Texas, and after living with her for sometime he came to his present home near Sewellton, and after living there quite awhile, he married another woman. The first wife came out from Texas week before last, went to Russell county and there met her husband. A warrant was issued for his arrest, and the case called for trial last Monday week. The defense called for evidence of the first marriage, and the woman who claimed to be the first wife, failing to produce papers, the case was continued, and the first wife left for her home. It is doubtful if anything further comes of it.

New Millinery Firm.

Mrs. Geo. W. Staples has sold her stock of millinery goods to Mrs. Geo. F. Stults and Mrs. L. L. Eubank, who will conduct the business in the same apartments, Russell Building. The ladies are experienced milliners and will make every effort to please lovers of fashion. They were in Louisville and Cincinnati last week where they bought a well-selected stock of the very latest designs in the millinery line. They also purchased goods from Indianapolis and Nashville. While in Cincinnati they secured the services of Miss Lula Dersche, whose home is in that city. She is a young lady of delicate taste and large experience in artistic work. She will arrive in due time. Notice of their opening will be given later. They will be pleased to see Mrs. Staples former customers, and they hope to merit a large trade on their own reputation. The style of this firm is Stults & Co.

Post-Mortem Examination.

Some two or more years ago an old gentleman named D. E. Allen, who lived in Iowa, got up a correspondence with a lady named Firquin, who lives in Cumberland county. An agreement to marry was reached, and the old gentleman came out and the rites were solemnized. He left several children in Iowa, and they claim, as we understand, that he brought several thousand dollars in cash with him. Several months ago he died very suddenly. His children learning of his demise, a son came out a few weeks ago, and as a result of his investigation, the County Judge of Cumberland county ordered that the body be disinterred and that a post-mortem examination be made. The officers and physicians met at White Hill Church last Monday, the body taken up and an examination made. The result will be given to the public later.

There will be Rally Day of the church and Bible School at the Christian church the fourth Sunday in this month. A program will be published next week. There will be a roll call that day and a special request is made for all the members to be present.

A revival meeting will begin on Monday evening after the fourth Sunday in this month at the Christian church conducted by Eld. J. Q. Montgomery. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all to attend these services.

Have you joined the Cash Union Store yet? Yes, and am buying the cheapest goods that I ever bought in my life. It pays to join. Call on T. G. Rasner and get a card.

Next Saturday the bond issue will be decided at the polls. Every man who wants to get out of the mud should vote for the issuing of bonds. It is the only way to get good roads all over the county.

Lodged in Jail.

Some time ago Jo Ragal and Roy Polston were fined in the Adair circuit court upon a charge of disturbing public worship. After the rendering of the verdict the accused left the county and went into Cumberland county. Sheriff Mitchell has been on the watch, and recently he learned the location of the parties. Papers were sent to Mr. W. H. Jones, Sheriff of Cumberland county, and last Sunday he and the Town Marshall of Burkesville, Mr. W. H. Murley, landed the fugitives in jail at this place.

Mr. Jones is a very efficient officer and is probably the youngest Sheriff in the State, being less than twenty-five years old.

J. F. Neat will pay 16c. a dozen for eggs, cash, at his store on the pike.

Sale Notice for September 18.

On Saturday, the 18th day of September, 1915, at my farm on Damron's creek, Adair county, Ky., I will as administratrix of the estate of R. C. Neal, deceased, sell to the highest and best bidder, on a credit of six months, with note and approved security, bearing interest from date, required of the purchaser, a pair of stock-scales, farming tools, two horses, two mules, some hogs, and about 25 head of cattle, and about 60 barrels of old corn, a buggy and harness, and a lot of other property too numerous to mention herein. Sale will begin about 10 o'clock, a. m.

Painfully Hurt.

Last Saturday afternoon while returning from the circus, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ottley got badly hurt. They were in a loaded surrey and when near the High School building, the front axle of the vehicle broke, and the carryall dropped to the ground. Mr. Ottley and his wife both received severe bruises and were so fearfully shaken up that they have been confined to their home since. It is hoped that they will be able to be out in a few days.

Notice, Modern Woodmen!

All Modern Woodmen in good standing are invited to be at the hall Monday night, Sept. 13. There will be work in both degrees. After the work refreshments will be served in Hall. All members in good standing from neighboring Camps are also invited to be present and join with us in brotherly love.

F. A. Rosenbaum, Consul,
J. C. Strange, Clerk.

Notice.

I am prepared to grade and clean your wheat. W. H. Dixon, 45-2t Concord.

There is good interest taken in the meetings that are now being held in the court house building. The Evangelist, F. W. Fall, spoke to a house full, Sunday night, on the subject "Eternal Hell," and we believe all who heard him were convinced by scripture that hell fire is awaiting all the Christ rejectors but an earnest appeal was given for people to repent and escape this eternal doom. The meetings will continue until the 19th of September. All are welcome.

White teachers' examination will be held in the old Christian College Chapel, up stair, September 17th and 18th. The laws governing the examination are known to the teachers.

There will be an all-day singing at Providence next Sunday. It will be conducted by the best singers in the county. Bring books.

Give the bond issue serious consideration, and you will vote for the proposition.

FOR RENT.—My farm.
Mrs. P. W. Dohoney.

Mr. G. W. Lowe, who has been conducting a shoe store at this place for about eighteen months, has closed out his stock, on account of the illness of his wife.

Monday's Speaking.

The court house was well filled Monday afternoon, the people having gathered to hear the bond proposition discussed. Mr. R. E. Woods, President of the Good Roads Association, of Louisville, was the first speaker, and he made a strong speech, favoring the proposition.

He was followed by Mr. J. F. Montgomery, who spoke for the opposition for about one hour. He enthused the friends of his side.

Judge W. W. Jones was the next speaker, and he showed very plainly that the county would be greatly benefited by voting bonds.

Rev. J. S. Chandler, who at all times is ready to defend what he believes to be right, made a telling speech for the bonds, occupying only about fifteen minutes.

Death of Mr. John H. Sandidge.

The intelligence of the death of Mr. John H. Sandidge, who was the oldest member of the bar at Burkesville, reached here last Friday. He died Thursday night at the age of eighty-six years. Many years ago he was the Commonwealth's Attorney in this district. He was a vigorous prosecutor, and three men were condemned to die, on the gallows, in the Adair circuit court while he was in office. The men were Smith, Johnson and Gallahar. The latter hung himself in jail. The other two were executed by the Sheriff of this county.

Ladies.

We now have on display the latest Fall styles in millinery. Come and see our Ready-to-wears.

Russell & Eubank.

Educational Rally Notice.

The program this year is just the same as last year, with two exceptions; the running high jump has been added and the subject for the essay this year is: "The Progress of the Moonlight Schools in Kentucky." It is possible some error may have been made in printing the program some week or two ago and the egg race was omitted. This event is for girls 14 and under. There are also two foot races, (100 yard dash,) one for boys any age, and one for boys 14 and under. I mention these last events, as some thought there was just one 100 yard dash for boys.

Farm For Sale.

My farm, known as the W. B. Dulin farm, 1 mile from Gradyville, is for sale. The farm contains 191 acres more or less, has 75 acres in cultivation, 30 acres of it bottom land, the balance in timber. It has a good 4 room cottage, two good barns and all other necessary outbuildings. I will sell same for $1,000. $900 paid in cash the balance on easy terms. Any one wanting to buy come and see me.

Robert O. Keltner,
Gradyville, Ky.

Badly Hurt.

Mrs. Myrt Abrell, who lives near Sano, this county, was very seriously hurt last Tuesday, by being thrown from a buggy. She was knocked senseless, and at first it was thought that she sustained broken bones, but upon examination it was discovered that she was only stunned and badly bruised. Thursday it was reported that she was on her way to recovery.

For Sale.

Desirable home, near Fair grounds, consisting of two acre lot, good dwelling, out-buildings, fine water and fruit also 32 acres of land.

Sallie Newby or Henry Mullinix, 45-tf. Columbia, Ky.

Mrs. Aaron Rogers fell at her residence last Saturday, dislocating her right elbow. Drs. O. P. and S. P. Miller reduced the fracture.

A raincoat was taken, through mistake, from Bruce Grissom's stand, during the fair. It belongs to me, and I would be glad if the one who has it, would return same to this office.

To The Voters of Adair County.

In submitting to you this note I assume each voter of the county wants to cast his vote in the Road Bond Contest now pending for the general as well as his own good. It is our duty as good citizens to inform ourselves upon this question and then act according to our individual judgment and if we honestly err we are without blame.

We cannot better inform ourselves on this question than to go to the records of the county and see just exactly what we are now paying and for what purpose.

I now insert in this note the following certificate of our County Clerk, viz:

State of Kentucky, }
County of Adair, }
I, Walker Bryant, Clerk of the Adair County Court, certify that the present rate of taxes for Adair county, Kentucky, for the year 1915 is as follows, viz: 25 cents ad valorem tax on the $100, and $1.50 per capita for General Purposes, 25 cents ad valorem tax on each $100 for roads and bridges and 15 cents ad valorem tax on each $100 and 50 cents per capita for school purposes, and the property list for taxation is..... $2,694,985 for this year.

And franchises for Bank, etc., for 1914 was $112,422.

Total $2,807,407

Witness my hand this Aug. 30th, 1915.

Walker Bryant, Clerk.

There are 3,400 polls outside of those returned as delinquent.

If you will take the pains to do so, you will find by a short calculation that we pay for school purposes, at 15 cents on the $100, $4,210, and 50 cents on each of the 3,400 polls, $1,700, making in all $5,910. However there should be deducted from this about $900 for taxes on property included in the Columbia Graded School district which would leave the county paying for school purposes $5,010. For general purposes which includes salaries of county officials, keeping prisoners, keeping up the paupers, etc., at 25 cents on the $100, $7,017. And $1.50 on each of 3,400 polls, $5,100, making a total for general purposes $12,117. Also we have levied 5 cents on the $100 for general road purposes for maintenance, $1,403; also 20 cents on the $100 to build the pike from Columbia over the Stanford road to the Casey county line which amounts to $5,614. Total taxes for all purposes, $24,144. You will observe that we are now under contract to build a pike from Columbia to the Casey county line and have appropriated for that purpose for this year $5,614, which is the above 20 cents on the $100 for each dollar of which the county expects to get one dollar from the State which will make $11,228 already set apart for this purpose by the Fiscal Court.

The distance to the Casey county line being about 20 miles you must observe that the time this road will be completed depends largely upon the amount it will take to build same per mile. If we can build it at $1,200 per mile it would take two full years to complete it, but if it should take $2,500 per mile to build it, it would take four full years to build it and so on according to the amount of money expended per mile.

Then say we are three years building this road and then we begin say on the road leading to Russell county and it takes us 2 years to build that and 8 years to build the two roads leading to Cumberland and Metcalfe county lines and then 3 or 4 years more to the Green and Taylor county lines, when we have done this we have consumed in all about 16 years and have not touched any other than roads leading to county seats.

Now if we vote $125,000 in bonds we can raise the money on them and build all the roads I have mentioned and 25 or 30 miles of additional roads in other parts of the county, and all at once and be enjoying them while paying for them.

By this process we can all enjoy some of the benefits of the good roads proposition, but if we continue the way we have set out, many who pay tax will never see a completion of them.

Now let us see if it will not be almost if not quite as cheap for us to go upon the bond plan.

Say we only continue to pay the 20 cents levy which we have already started on which will raise $5,614 per year if the assessment is never any higher and then take the like amount put up by the State which will make, in all, $11,228 per year.

If we assume that all the bonds will be sold just as needed, it can be so done as to, in effect, allow us to pay them off just as we have the money to do so. If you desire to figure it out upon the basis of paying off the bonds and interest at the rate of $11,228 per year, you will find that they will all be discharged, principal and interest, at the end of 17 years.

By the course we are now pursuing, it will take at least 20 years to make all the roads we could make with this $125,000, and it would cost us more than to go at it at once and have it all done with except paying which can easily be done without raising the tax rate one cent over what it is now.

Why would any business man take 20 years to do a thing which he can do at once and at less expense? Let me call the peoples attention to another thing, which is a dangerous thing, and it is this: when some two or three of these roads are built, then those who have gotten the benefit of your taxes for, may be 10 or 12 years, will get tired of the road tax and may elect a Fiscal Court which will stop the Road Building and leave you in the mud while they will ride upon roads you have built.

Our only remedy against this seems to be to carry through the bond proposition and let us all have a fair show. There can be no advantage taken then.

Now, I want to say that about $5,045 of the $12,117 above mentioned is spent to keep up the paupers of the county.

The Fiscal Court should do what Casey and Cumberland counties have long been doing, viz, buy a good farm and fix it up comfortably and send the paupers to it and give them work to do when they are able to work and let them help to take care of one another and treat them like they were human beings. I don't want to be understood as begrudging a single crumb to the poor of the county, but on the contrary I want to see them better taken care of, which I know can be done at far less expense than it is now being done. I understand that the county farm in Casey county is self-sustaining and that that county pays out next to nothing for the maintenance of its poor, and well provides for them through its farm.

If we could so manage it as to save 3 or 4 thousand dollars per year out of this $5,043, in this one item we could add it to the road fund and could thereby be able to pay this $125,000 and interest in less than 14 years.

Say we save $3,000 per year this way and add it to the $11,228 it would make $14,228 to pay each year on the bonds and interest without raising the present tax rate one cent. I have made the figures and with this sum to pay at the end of each year, we could pay off the whole $125,000 and interest in less than 14 years. Let every tax payer ponder over the figures given here. Let him exercise his reason. He might wonder why he is not entitled to have a good road to go about his business on, out of so much money spent. I don't see how any reasonable man can oppose this bond issue in view of all the facts and figures.

If anybody doubts the figures let him go to the records and see for himself.

If we can build all the roads at once and not raise the taxes over the present rate, and with the present rate pay off the bonds and interest in less time than we can build the roads under the present arrangement, how can any reasonable voter fail to say that the bond issue is the sensible and businesslike plan? Take this note and figure on it and see if I have given the correct solution of the matter.

We wish to say we have a right to expect fair treatment at the hands of the people who are now getting the benefit of the present arrangement.

Just let me add for general information, that we pay for all county purposes

State tax	$24,144
Columbia for town tax about	15,440
Columbia Graded School tax	3,000
Total	$46,084

Quite a lot of money!

Now Mr. voter if you want to be sure to get your road attended to on the square deal plan, take steps at once to be put on equal footing with every other part of the county, which can only be done by getting enough money in sight at one time to do justice to every part of the county, and this can be done only by sustaining the bond issue. There is danger of a few lines getting their roads piked at State and county expense and then coming to the conclusion that the road tax is a bad thing and preventing the rest of the county from getting any road at all.

Most Respectfully,

WAR SITUATION.

HIGH BRITISH AUTHORITY HINTS CONSCRIPTION NEAR.

London, Aug. 26 (5:07 p. m.)—Something in the nature of conscription, though the term was not employed, was foreshadowed by the Earl of Selborne, president of the Board of Agriculture, in an address this afternoon to a deputation of agricultural land owners which visited him in London.

"Many more men have got to join the army, whether voluntarily or compulsorily," said the Earl. "The agricultural laborer has done his part nobly in the war, but the response has been very unequal over the country, and I forecast that during the next year men will be taken from districts and farms whence hitherto they have not gone.

"What I shall aim at—and Earl Kitchener has been very sympathetic—is to leave the farmer his foreman, stockman, carters and shepherds, but the rest of the work will have to be done by women or men not hitherto engaged in agriculture."

Earl Selborne emphasized the fact that Russia's reverses had imposed a greater strain on her allies.

"We have a greater burden on our shoulders at the present moment than six months ago," he said. "The financial strain is going to be very great, and the situation is going to demand from every class greater and greater sacrifices.

The speaker stated that the navy had the submarine menace will in hand.

SAYS NEW BRITISH ARMY WILL MAKE WORLD "DUMB WITH ADMIRATION."

said David Lloyd-George, British Minister of Munitions, in an interview with Charles Humbert, new editor of the Journal. "It also controls all foundries and machine and tool factories and not one pound of metal or one detached piece is turned out by this vast industrial machine which is not destined for the use of our armies. This war must not be fought with brawny chests, but with machinery."

From what Mr. Lloyd-George showed him M. Humbert believes British preparations in many ways are more ample than those of the French. He declares the army now in training will be one of the most powerful the world has ever seen and when, later, it will be possible to tell what has been accomplished by the British the universe will be "dumb with admiration."

TURKEY THREATENS TO SEEK PEACE.

Paris, Aug. 26.—A rumor is current in Athens that Turkey has threatened to sign a separate peace with the Allies unless Germany declares war on Italy, according to a special dispatch to the morning papers.

Russia's Munitions Crises Over; Armies Now in Great Condition.

London, Aug. 26.—The shell crises in Russia is over, according to an announcement made by Chairman Shingareff, of the Duma Defense Committee to the Daily Chronicle's Petrograd correspondent. The quantity of munitions, the statement continues, has been more than doubled and all necessary supplies are going forward promptly. The Russian army now is in splendid fighting condition, it is stated, and the machinery of the international administration is gradually being adapted to the new conditions.

"The word 'evacuation,' says the correspondent, "is losing its terrors in the minds of the people, who are beginning to regard the idea of somewhat protracted mobility as a feasible military scheme."

Three things to love—the wise the virtuous and the innocent.

To the Public.

"I feel that I owe the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy a word of gratitude," writes Mrs. T. N. Witherall, Gowanda, N. Y. "When I began taking this medicine I was in great pain and feeling terribly sick, due to an attack of summer complaint. After taking a dose of it had not long to wait for relief as it benefited me almost immediately." For sale by Pauli Drug Co. Adv.

Three things to commend—thrift, industry and promptness.

A Splendid Offer.

Until further notice we will furnish The Adair County News one year, the Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, one year, Boy's Magazine, monthly, one year, Farm and Fireside, semi-monthly, one year; To-day's Magazine, monthly, one year; and Household Journal, monthly, one year, all for $1.65. This is the best offer ever made by this office, and all who want reading matter should send their subscriptions to this office at once.

The Daily Mail's Petrograd correspondent also telegraphs in an optimistic vein. He says a new phase of the Russian operations is now beginning in which the Russians will have two useful allies, namely, autumn mist and autumn mud.

"Already," says the correspondent, "seven Teutonic armies in many places are floundering through marshy districts where there is a thick fog in the morning and evening and where the rains are turning the roads into deep mud. Amid the lakes and bogs where the operations must now take place the Geamans will often be obliged to move in narrow causeways under the concentrated fire of the Russian artillery, which thus will be able to inflict terrific losses at small cost. The foggy weather will prevent the German airmen feeling out the Russian positions.

"An indication of what the Russians will do next is given in an official announcement that the time has come for the Russian armies to select a suitable position upon which to remove until it can be made to serve as a point of departure for a decisive advance. In other words, the Russians now plan to dig themselves in a fortified defensive front such as exist in the west."

"Premier Okuma states that Japan has decided to give greater assistance to Russia to prosecute the war. He could not discuss details, but allowed it to be understood that this assistance would take the form of the forwarding of greater supplies of munitions."

The Associated Press learns that Japan has decided to employ all available governmental and private resources for increasing the output of munitions for the allies, particularly Russia.

The Japanese government believes the time has arrived for more concerted action against the enemies of Japan and her allies.

AEROPLANE SINKS GERMAN SUBMARINE.

London, Aug. 26, (6:18 p. m.)—A German submarine has been destroyed near Ostend, Belgium, by a bomb dropped by an aeroplane. Official announcement to this effect was made here this evening.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Unofficial advices to representatives of the Balkan nations here say Bulgaria has signed an agreement with Turkey, which includes the provision that she remain neutral and that the attempt to form a Balkan League has failed. News of the formation of the new Cabinet by Minister Venizelos reached the Greek legation today. It is said here that the demands of the Allies upon Greece were unsatisfactory and that the Hellenic Government will announce its intention of remaining neutral, for the present at least.

Brest-Litovsk, the great Russian stronghold which has been the apparent chief goal of the Austro-Germans in their advance after the taking of Warsaw, has been captured by the Teutonic forces.

The Russians gave up the fortress, the Berlin official statement says, after the works on the Western and northwestern front has been stormed and the attacking forces had succeeded in entering the central defenses.

A great enveloping movement has been in progress for some time past which threatened to cut off Brest-Litovsk from the East. Recent semi-official intimations from Petrograd have been that the Russians were preparing to give up the stronghold.

An air raid of unprecedented proportions, so far as reported, has been made by the French, who sent sixty-two aeroplanes over a German arms factory to the North of Saarlouis, in Rhenish, Prussia. More than 150 bombs, thirty of them of large caliber, were dropped "with precision," the French statement says.

Japan is to establish new factories for the manufacture of shells as part of her plan to give increased assistance to her allies in the war, advices from Tokio State.

Indications are multiplying that a new coalition cabinet of national defense may be formed in Russia. The subject is being daily discussed by members of the various parties in the Duma.

Unrest of Northern tribesmen in India is causing disquietude, according to advices received in Japan, but the belief is expressed that any outbreak could be handled by the available forces.

FRENCH DROP BOMBS ON GERMAN FACTORY.

Paris, Aug. 26 (2:30 p. m.)—Sixty-two French aviators on August 24 flew over a German arms factory, to the north of Saarlouis, throwing down a total of more than 150 shells. Thirty of these were of large caliber. Announcement of the aerial raid is made in the statement given out by the War Office this afternoon. The statement reads:

"During the day of August 24 a French aviator threw down bombs on the railroad station of Offenbourg, in Baden, seventeen miles from Karlsruhe. At this point there is an important railroad junction in the Grand Duchy.

"On August 25 an aerial squadron composed of four groups and including a total of sixty-two aviators, flew over the heights of Dellingen. Here there is a factory where shells and armor plate are made. The location of this plant is to the north of Saarlouis, in Rhenish Prussia, thirty miles southeast of Treves. The aviators threw down with precision over 150 bombs, thirty of which were of large caliber."

So far as official reports have disclosed, there never had been previously an air raid of such magnitude, so far as concerns the number of machines employed, as yesterday's attack by sixty-two aeroplanes. In a few earlier ventures of the kind thirty or more aeroplanes were used.

Press dispatches have indicated that the principal belligerents have built great numbers of aeroplanes, and as a result of the development of this branch of the service since the outbreak of the war these machines are now sent forth in flotillas for organized assaults on a large scale, instead of being dispatched singly or in pairs, chiefly for observation purposes.

Yesterday's raid was the third in this part of Germany during the last three weeks. On August 9 Saarbruecken was bombarded, and three days later the neighboring towns of Saint Ingbert and Zweibruecken were attacked. Eight persons were killed in the latter raid.

A British authority says 450,000 Germans were killed in the first year of the war, and that the net loss, including wounded, ill and those dead from disease, is 1,500,000. He declares there are only 3,200,000 men on the actual fighting line.

This is the "Thornhill" Wagon—the Wagon that Must Make Good

The best known materials—the labor of master workmen—the aid of the most ingenious modern machinery have been employed to make the Thornhill wagon.

The wheels are made with excessive care. For the spokes the manufacturers use the finest hickory—machine driven to insure the right dish. The hubs are of oak, thoroughly seasoned and banded with double refined sable iron.

The bolsters are of the best white oak. They have an iron plate at top and bottom, riveted through and through—multiplying their strength.

The "Thornhill" has a malleable front hound plate that is braced to the hounds at all points. This is an exclusive "Thornhill" feature. It prevents the gears from ever getting out of line and causing hard pulling.

"Thornhill" wagons are equipped with long sleeve malleable—non-breakable skeins that insure light running, and outlast any other skein. Each skein is fitted to its axle with a Defiance machine—infallibly accurate. This machine insures the right pitch and tuck, makes light draft a certainty.

The axles are of toughest nickory—the steel axles of the best refined steel.

The sides of "Thornhill" beds are made of poplar. It costs the makers more—but it holds paint better and gives better service.

THE BOND PROPOSITION.

Replying to "The Bond Issue Discussed," written by Mr. Gordon Montgomery, our County Attorney, which appeared last week, in the News, as well as circular form, I feel it a duty, not a pleasure, to pass such criticism as its inaccuracies and misleading conclusions warrant. I do not mean to go farther than the facts justify in my support of the proposition, nor do I believe that others should do so, whether for or against it. There is no reason to justify anyone in presenting distorted figures, and incorrect arguments to secure a favorable verdict, and if a man desires to instruct he ought to do it correctly.

He states that the taxable list of property, in this county, in round numbers, is $2,600,000, and makes his calculations on that base. The books show our taxable property to be $2,694,985, and franchise, $112,422, making a total of $2,807,407, so it is readily seen that his base is wrong $207,407. If base is wrong and his reasoning correct, the result is also wrong.

He states that a 30c. levy would produce $7,800, but it will produce $8,422.22, a difference of $622.22 per year.

He states that the kind of road that the State will aid in building will cost in Adair county, on an average, of not less than $2,400 per mile. The fact is, that the State makes no such requirement as to cost nor exacts it of this county. He says, this estimate is based on the cost per mile of the road which Adair county has already planned to build from Columbia to Liberty. This estimate was made on the twelve-foot metal crowned road which the Fiscal Court decided to build, but which will not be accepted by the State, as he is bound to know. The State will accept a nine, ten, or fourteen foot road and the cost will be in proportion to its width.

The State does not stipulate the cost and is just as ready to pay its part on gravel road as well as on stone roads that cost much more money. Mr. Montgomery knows this to be true.

He intimates that the indebtedness of the State impairs its ability to discharge its obligations in the building of roads. The fact is, that the aid given the roads does not come out of the general funds, but from a direct tax and from automobiles.

He states that it will cost from $100.00 to $200.00 per mile after the first three years to keep up the pikes. Estimates from our State Road Commissioner as given to thirty or forty of Adair county citizens a few days ago, was for roads of moderate travel, from $20.00 to $30.00 per mile, while roads bearing a heavy tonnage, would require more.

I received from the County Clerk of Marion county the amount to be spent on their roads this year, which does not reach as much as seventy dollars per mile, and part of this work is almost rebuilding several miles and includes the cost of hauling stone for one road a distance of five miles. The officials of that county stated to me that this was the heaviest appropriation that has ever been made on their roads.

He states that fifty-two miles of road could be built. Let us see: This county putting up $125,000 and the State a like amount would make $250,000, while not immediately available, yet it would be paid within a few years. It is estimated by the State Road Department that this would all be paid within fourteen years. It is also estimated by the same department that we can build a nine or ten foot road where stone is not more than one and a half miles to haul, at from $1,800 to $2,200 per mile, and much of it for less than $1,800, where the grading is not heavy. Also where gravel is convenient it can be built for $1,000 or less. At $1,800 per mile this county can build, in a few years, at least 140 miles of road. This would make all the main roads and penetrate every precinct in the county. Milltown, Keltner, Harmony, Roley, nor White Oak would have cause to regret, and all would share in the expenditure of the money and receive a just share of good roads.

He states that no allowance has been made for rights of way and condemnation proceedings, and yet he knows that the Fiscal Court is on record not to build where the people will not give the right of way, and as County Attorney advised this, and not satisfied with the deeds for the right of way from Columbia to the Casey county line taken on a preliminary survey by the surveyor, who was employed by the Court to make the final location of the road, demanded bond and it was given. These surveys will cost the county, and is a just charge, but where people are unwilling to give the ground for a road, the Court has said it will not build, and our Attorney acquiesced and so do I. I do not propose to say how expensive our county government may become, but I see no necessity for increasing expenses over what they have been, unless the county desires to increase them by enlarging its charities. He points out an approaching condition that would almost shut out our road tax, unless we resort to an additional 20c levy providing for interest and sinking fund.

This year we are able to make a 25c road levy, yet Mr. Montgomery says this can not be maintained. Why it is or how it is that the expenses of conducting the business of this county has so increased, or will so increase, is unknown to me, but it seems that instead of fighting a movement to build our roads and produce thrift, that a more imperative duty devolves on our county officials, who are in position to know where economy ought to be applied for the public good.

If this proposition was the first move of the kind to build public roads, if there could be found a county that has built its roads by borrowing money and afterwards regretted it or repudiated its obligation, then it might become a question of doubt. I am familiar in a number of counties that have built their roads by issuing bonds, and have never heard an expression of regret. I have seen the waste places bloom as the rose, opportunities and inducements to stir the energies of the people, and thrift and values advanced many folds after good roads were built. No cause that leads from bad to good, no movement that necessitates the expenditure of public money whether for State, county or charity, will ever have easy sailing. Mr. Montgomery closed his article as follows: "I make no suggestion how any man should vote on this question, but feel it my duty to see that the voters of Adair county know exactly what kind of a proposition they are up against." I close as follows: Moses had his knockers for forty years from Egypt bondage to the land of promise, but he kept the faith and deliverance came. The thirteen colonies pledged through their representatives, their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor, and we as well as millions of others are the beneficiaries of that terrible struggle, though history tells of a most annoying American opposition from Bunker's Hill to Yorktown. The war was long, the sacrifice heavy, but from that struggle the greatest government of the world came into existence, bonded for liberty, bonded for prosperity, and still it exists and grows stronger, better and more prosperous as the years go by.

C. S. HARRIS.

There seems to be a bugaboo about the interest on the bonds sought to be issued for road purposes. Many say that they would be for raising the money this way if we could pay off the bonds in 3 or 4 years. Now let us look at the proposition from a business standpoint. Every man who borrows money in this county pays not less than 6 per cent. and sometimes as high as 8 per cent. Say the county now holds in her treasury $125,000 in cash, would it not be best to loan out this $125,000 at 6 per cent., and issue the bonds at 5 per cent., due in 30 years? In this way we would save 1 per cent., which would amount to $1,250 per year. Every business man's money in this county is worth 6 per cent., at least.

Suppose further that A. and B. have got to pay $125,000 at the end of 30 years with 5 per cent. interest payable at the end of each year but have the privilege of paying it all down at once. Say, A. pays his cash down and B. gives bond for his $125,000 and loans out his $125,000 at 6 per cent. interest payable at the end of each year and releases this interest at the end of each year. By this arrangement he can set apart $109,000 of his $125,000 which loaned at 6 per cent., collected annually and reloaned will pay off his $125,000 and interest at the end of the 30th year and he thus saves $16,000 at the start out of his $125,000 with which to carry on his business, while A., who paid cash has nothing.

E. P. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor, opened his campaign at Bowling Green Monday. The Democratic candidate, Hon. A. O. Stanley, will take the stump about the middle of this month. The Democrats in this part of the State would like to hear the two distinguished gentlemen in joint debate, but they almost feel sure that such an appointment will not be made. Mr. Stanley is like Bark-

The Democratic platform adopted at the State convention is the strongest the party has ever put out. It endorses the administration of President Wilson and presents him to the country for re-nomination, Kentucky being the first State to take action in the coming Presidential campaign. It stands for a better road, a better tax system, improvement in the present primary law, the county unit as governing the sale and manufacture of liquor and many other good things. It is a long document, but it should be read by every voter in the State.

A Vicious Pet.

The pet squirrel of Mr. G. W. Lowe escaped from his cage one morning last week. It sprang on a lady who was nearing the house and bit her through arm and shoulder and tore her clothes in several places. It then attacked a boy passing by and bit him two or three times. Some one seeing what was going on telephoned for Mr. Lowe to come home quick and kill it. As Mr. Lowe approached his place he met two or three little negroes coming at full speed and the squirrel right on their heels. He then ran up a tree, and Mr. Lowe called a dog to the scene. The squirrel came down, gave the dog a rough fight and then escaped to the tree again. Allen Eubank finally killed it.

Dr. Fell's Pine-Tar-Honey which goes to the very root of cold troubles. It clears the throat and gives relief from that clogged and stuffed feeling. The pines have ever been the friend of man in driving away colds. Moreover, the pine-honey qualities are peculiarly effective in fighting children's colds. Rev. Fall, of Michigan, is conducting a series of meetings at the courthouse, preaching each evening and on Sunday forenoons. He is quite a young man but he delivers his sermons with force. He is not preaching in the interest of any particular Church. He wants to see, as he says, men and women converted to the Christian religion. He leaves it to the subject, to join any protestant denomination he may see fit. Large congregations are hearing him.

Every Home Needs a Faithful cough and Cold Remedy.

When seasons change and colds appear—when you first detect a cold after sitting next to one who has sneezed, then it is that a tried and tested remedy should be faithfully used. ## A Trip to the Blue Grass.

On last Tuesday morning forty men, headed by W. R. Myers, started on a trip through the Blue Grass country to investigate the roads and the bond proposition. We left Columbia at 8 a. m., arrived in Campbellsville at 9:20 a. m., leaving Campbellsville for Lebanon, at 10.

We arrived at Lebanon at 11:45. Stopping there a short time we left at 12:05. The roads were good to Perryville, which point we reached at 1:50 p. m., stopped there and rested, and ate dinner. Leaving there, we went to Harrodsburg, arriving at 2:45 p. m. The people talked favorably about the road question, but was not bonded, nor ever had been. Leaving there at 3:15, we went to Lawrenceburg, which place we reached at 4:25, stopping for a short rest, and to see how the people were on the bond issue—another place that knew but little about bonds. At 4:50 we hit the road for Frankfort, arriving there about 6:15. After eating supper we took the town in, visiting all the places of note, such as the old and new Capitol, and the penitentiary.

We saw the place where Goebel was standing when he was shot, also his and Lincoln's statues, after which we went through the new capitol building, which is one of the grand sights that we saw. We went through, enjoying the scenery as we passed. After leaving the capital grounds, we returned to the hotel for the rest of the night, which was more than half spent. Next morning we went through the penitentiary. We found the convicts having a very nice time, considering the situation. Mr. Terrell made us a very nice talk on the road question, telling the disadvantages as well as the advantages of the proposition we had before us, and answering every question we asked him.

After leaving Frankfort, we next visited Versailles, and on the road from Frankfort to Versailles we saw about three miles of State aid road—all the State aid road we saw on our trip.

We went through the edge of Lexington, stopping long enough to get a lunch. We started home by the way of Harrodsburg, Perryville, Lebanon and Campbellsville, reaching home Thursday morning at 1 o'clock tired, but still in the ring, ending one of most enjoyable trips I ever had the opportunity to take. ### IV.—F. A. Vanderlip On The Business of Banking

The farmers of this nation to come into their own must study business. We must, as a class, understand the fundamental principles that underlie every industry, its functions to society and its relation to agriculture, for there can be no intelligent co-operation without understanding. Mr. F. A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, when asked, "What is a bank?" said in part:

"The first and most familiar function of a bank is that of gathering up the idle money of a community, small sums and large, and thus forming a pool or reservoir upon which responsible persons may draw as they have temporary use for money. It is evident that this makes large sums in the aggregate available for the employment of labor and the development of the community. But much more is accomplished than the use of the money actually deposited in the banks, for by the use of drafts, checks and bank notes the efficiency of money is multiplied several times over. A very large business, for example one of the great beef packers, may use very little actual money; on one side of its bank account will be entered the checks and drafts it is daily receiving from everywhere in payment for meats, while on the other side will be entered the checks it draws in payment for cattle, etc., its only use of money being for small payments, to labor and otherwise.

If there were but one bank in a community and everybody paid all bills by drawing checks on that bank, and everyone receiving a check immediately deposited it in the bank, the amount of money in the bank evidently would not change at all and the entire business of the community would be settled on the books of the bank. And the situation is but slightly changed when there are several banks, for they daily exchange among themselves all the checks they receive on each other, which practically offset themselves, although the small balances are paid in cash. This is called 'clearing' and in every large city there is a 'Clearing House' where representatives of the banks meet daily to settle their accounts with each other.

A bank is constantly receiving from its customers, particularly those that are shipping products to other localities, drafts and checks drawn on banks in other cities, which it usually sends for deposit to a few correspondent banks in the central cities with which it maintains permanent accounts. In this way these scattered credits are consolidated and the bank draws upon these accounts in supplying customers with the means of making payments away from home. As each local community sells and buys about the same amount abroad in the course of a year, these payments largely offset each other. It is evident that the banks are very intimately related to the trade and industry of a country. The banker is a dealer in credit much more than a dealer in money, and of course his own credit must be above question. He exchanges his credit for the credits acquired by the customers, and lends credit for their accommodation, but he must conduct the business with such judgment that he can always meet his own obligations with cash on demand. This is the essential thing about bank credit, that it shall always be the same as cash."

IX.—Peter Radford On "Back to the Soil With Wall Street"

When Wall Street wants good business men she usually goes back to the soil to get them. That financial thoroughfare is said to be honeycombed with men who have plowed barefooted, who have drunk branch water, eaten cornbread and molasses and slept on the floor in their early days. A man is more capable of holding the reins of business who knows how to drive a team of mules, shear a sheep or put a ring in a goat's nose. A man is better equipped to meet the problems of life who in his youth has walked the log across the creek to get to school, courted the girls at husking bees and pitched horse shoes Saturday afternoon. A man who has spent the moonlight nights of his youth possum hunting, going to protracted meetings and occasionally turning down the community at a spelling match has the right sort of stuff in him to make a good business man. The active officials of most of the large business organizations of America it is said were, with a very few exceptions, raised on the farm, and could swim the creek, pitch hay, chop wood, milk the cows or slop the hogs as easily as they can run world-wide business institutions.

The farmers look to these capable and loyal sons of the soil to assist in the solution of the business problems of agriculture. Wall Street is reputed to be capable of financing everything from a Y. M. C. A. to a war, so why not finance agriculture? It is not sufficient to lend money to a correspondent to lend to a local banker, to lend to a broker to lend to a merchant, to lend to the landlord to lend to a farmer. Such a financial system sounds like the house that Jack built, and is just about as useful. Neither is assistance complete when money is furnished buyers to "move the crop." What the farmer wants is money to hold the crop. What better security is there than a warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton, a sack of wheat or a bushel of corn and why will such securities not travel by the side of government bonds?

The American farmer is a capable plowman. He always has filled and always will fill the nation's granary, larder and wardrobe, but he has nothing to say in fixing the price of his products. The problem confronting the farmers of this nation today is marketing and its solution depends first upon the farmer organizing for concert of action and the co-operation of the financial interests in marketing the crop. Agriculture is the biggest business in America and the only one that has not a financial system adapted to its use.

A Permanent Cure For Chronic Constipation

Although those may dispute it who have not tried it, yet thousands of others, who speak from personal experience, assert that there is a permanent cure for chronic constipation. Some testify they were cured for as little as fifty cents, years ago, and that the trouble never came back on them, while others admit they took several bottles before a steady cure was brought about.

The remedy referred to is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been on the market for over a quarter of a century and has been popularized on its merits, by one person telling another. The fact that its strongest supporters are women and elderly people—the ones most persistently constipated—makes it certain that the claims regarding it as a permanent cure for constipation have not been exaggerated.

It is not violent like cathartic pills, salts or waters, but operates gently, without griping and without shock to the system. It contains tonic properties that strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with and nature is again solely relied on. Among the legions who testify to these facts are J. F. Blankenship, Sharon, Tenn., and Beulah L. Rogers, Kosmosdale, Ky., and they always have a bottle of it in the house, for it is a reliable laxative for all the family from infancy to old age.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size), can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 465 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Three things to attain—goodness of heart, integrity of purpose and cheerfulness of disposition.—Leadership.

Three things to admire—dignity, gracefulness and intellectual power.

Worth Their weight in Gold.

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets and found them to be just as represented, a quick relief for headaches, dizzy spells and other symptoms denoting a torpid liver and a disordered condition of the digestive organs. They are worth their weight in gold," writes Miss Clara A. Driggs, Elba, N. Y. For sale by Paul Drug Co. Adv.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Fomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.

I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

Reunited After 53 Years.

After being separated for 53 years, during 40 of which each thought the other dead, Allan H. Bemis, a Civil war veteran of Collinswood, N. J., and his sister, Mrs. Eliza E. Dibble, of Rolla, Mo., have been reunited at the home of the former.

Bemis, who is now 73 years old, enlisted to fight in the Civil war with his six brothers. Two of the brothers were killed and all the others but one were injured, and one of the dead was thought to be the present Collinswood man. He lost trace of his sister and later heard, erroneously, that he had died.

Three months ago the brother and sister were informed, thru a distant relative, that the other was alive, and well. Searches and inquiries followed which resulted in the couple getting in communication with each other.

True Wealth.

The prevalent idea is that money is wealth. This idea is erroneous. Money is only the measure of service rendered the community. Real wealth is service in tangible form. If this idea prevailed there would be less confusion and dissatisfaction.

The world's greatest fortunes were based on the development of a public utility—oil, coal, steel, sugar, land, lumber, street cars or newspapers, says a writer in a current periodical. Willingness to serve plus wisdom to serve properly, produce wealth—that is, service that may be measured by money.

It is frequently said that a man is worth a million dollars, but he has not a million dollars. He has that created by service which measured by money is worth a million dollars. He can turn it into a million dollars because it is worth that much to somebody else, but he could not realize on it if it did not represent so much service. So it is well to get into mind the basic fact that money is only a measure, and service is wealth.

If every young man starting out in life would found his life work on this basic fact, he would gain true wealth much faster than the average young man does.

A wonderful Antiseptic

Germs and infection aggravate ailments and retard healing. Stop that infection at once. Kill the germs and get rid of the poisons. For this purpose a single application of Sloan's Liniment not only kills the pain but destroys the germs. This neutralizes infection and gives nature assistance by overcoming congestion and gives a chance for the free and normal flow of the blood. Sloan's Liniment is an emergency doctor and should be kept constantly on hand. 25c., 50c. The $1.00 size contains six times as much as the 25c. At The Paull Drug Co. Adv.

OLDEST RED MAN
INDORSES TANLACRemedy Filled Him With New Energy and Vigor After Many Years.

Louisville, Ky., Sept., 7.—Among those to indorse Tanlac recently is Fred Meinecke, a retired hardware dealer, of 2522 West Jefferson street, this city, who found speedy relief from chronic stomach trouble by use of the premier preparation. Mr. Meinecke, who is sixty-eight years old and the oldest member of the Order of Red Men in Kentucky said:

"I was suffering from stomach trouble for many years. Finally my condition became so serious that I was forced to retire from business. I was unable to retain even the lightest foods on my stomach, and had the most severe pains imaginable in my abdominal regions after eating. I suffered from headaches, nervousness, and dizziness, and found it difficult to sleep.

"After being advised by friends to try Tanlac, and seeing it advertised in the newspaper, I decided to try it. I was astonished at the result. After taking a few doses my appetite returned and I found that I could eat anything I craved with relish. The nervousness and dizziness disappeared and my sleep became restful and peaceful. I no longer suffer from pains in the abdomen and head.

"I can do as much work now as I ever could and feel as well as I did 20 years ago, before I became affected with stomach trouble."

HEALTH OFFICER'S COLUMN.

BY U. L. TAYLOR.

I propose to write this week about typhoid fever, its causes and prevention as given by the United States Public Health Service.

What I am proposing to write is taken from a recent bulletin by L. L. Lumsden on typhoid fever. Only a portion of it will appear this week. The remainder will appear later. Typhoid fever is a preventable disease. Compared with the other infections and communicable or catching diseases it is readily preventable. Practical measures for the prevention of typhoid fever are known. They have been tested in many parts of the world, and in every instance they have proved effective. It is therefore within the power of any community of intelligent persons to fix its own fever rate. Though the preventive measures are a matter of definite knowledge, efforts to get the people of the average self-governing community to carry out these measures to a reasonable extent are decidedly experimental in character.

In the United States about 400,000 persons are incapacitated, and about 30,000 are killed by typhoid fever each year. Many of the cases occur in persons who are their greatest earning capacity. Thus the nation suffers from this disease a tremendous economic loss, amounting to many times over what the work required to prevent such loss would cost. Typhoid fever prevails in parts of the United States. Within the last ten years few of our communities of as many as 2,000 persons have remained free from this disease for a period of twelve consecutive months. In recent years the rate of prevalence has been for this country as a whole, from two to five times as high as it has been for some of the European countries. These European countries formerly had higher typhoid fever rates than that of the United States in recent years. Their reduced rates have followed improvements in sanitary conditions. In many American cities there has occurred within the last twenty years, a very wholesome reduction in typhoid fever. But in large part, apparently, to sanitary improvements in the cities, there has been a material reduction in the rates of prevalence of the disease for some entire States. For the United States as a whole the typhoid fever rate, according to available figures has been reduced within the last fifty years by about 50 per cent. The present rate in this country, however, is about what the rate for some other countries of the world was 30 years ago. Thus in respect to typhoid fever reduction, this nation is about a generation behind the times. Typhoid fever prevalence depends upon insanitary conditions in respect to the disposal of human excreta (stools and urine). In our rural districts generally, improvement of sanitary conditions in this respect does not appear to have been sufficient to play any considerable part in effecting the reduction in typhoid fever, in the United States. The improvement of sanitary conditions in our rural districts is one of the vitally important problems confronting us, both as individuals and as a nation. Good examples are needed. A community in carrying out the reasonable and simple sanitary measures for the prevention of typhoid fever will markedly benefit itself directly thereby and will also set an example by which other communities may profit. A remarkable example has been furnished by Yakima county in the State of Washington. That county has had every year, as far back as the records went, a high typhoid fever rate—over three times as high as the average rate for the whole United States. In the summer of 1911 a campaign for improved sanitary conditions was conducted in that county by the United States Health Service in co-operation with the state and county health organizations. Practical measures for the correction of the obviously insanitary conditions were recommended by the investigators and were carried out by the local people. As a result the annual prevalence of typhoid fever in the county, as a whole was reduced by almost 90 per cent. In North Yakima, the principal town and county seat, with a population of 14,082 in 1910, and of about 18,700 in 1914 the deaths from typhoid fever reported each year in the period of seven years, was as follows. In 1908, twenty-five; in 1909, twenty; in 1910, thirty; in 1911, six; in 1912, four; in 1913, three; and in 1914, two. In Yakima county, outside of North Yakima, deaths from typhoid fever were reported as follows: In 1910 twenty-five; in 1911, eleven; in 1913, three; in 1914 none. Striking as these figures are, they become more so when considered in connection with the progressively increasing population of the county. Since July 1, 1911 the annual appropriation for health work administered in Yakima county has been about $6,500 more than it was for the several years prior thereto. The saving in human life and human health and the prevention of loss both in earnings and in caring for the sick appear to be a reasonably good dividend for this investment.
